The Rexroth (Indramat) RAC family was designed for high power, high stiffness applications using either the 2AD series motors or the 1MB frameless motors. The drives can handle motor resolutions of up to 1/4,000,000 of a rev and have internal positioning loop control available, either by the motor feedback, or by external feedback (with several different interfaces available).

The drive was moved to one of the two travel limit switches. The reaction of the drive regarding the travel area being exceeded would be selected as a warning. Exceeding the Travel Area as a Warning: The drive brakes with maximum torque until it reaches a standstill and stays in an activated condition at this position.

Rexroth's Ecodrive drive controller was a landmark product when it first came out. It was an unusually intelligent controller, part of a beautifully designed industrial motion control system, at a great price. In fact, the "eco" in Ecodrive stands for "economy," not "ecology" as you might have thought.
